THERMOFORMING EXPERTS

With over 50 years of thermoforming design and manufacturing experience, you can trust that our award-winning design and engineering team will deliver the best packaging solution possible to meet your and your customers' needs, and meet your sustainability goals.

ADVANTAGES OF THERMOFORMING

Thermoforming is the process that involves heating a flat sheet of plastic until it is soft enough to mold. Once it reaches the correct temperature, the sheet advances to the form section. After the sheet is formed, it is then pulled into the mold with a vacuum. The plastic hardens and forms the desired part, which is then trimmed and inspected for quality.

Thermoforming has many advantages over other plastic processing procedures, including:

- Low-cost tooling
- Quick and inexpensive prototyping
- Shorter production lead times
- Custom designs that are easy to modify
- Ability to produce both large and small parts
- Ability to produce parts with superior stress crack resistance, high impact strength, and rigidity

HISTORY OF THE BLISTERBOX®

It Started With Placon

In 1966, our founder Tom Mohs built a small thermoforming machine in his basement and began making plastic jewelry boxes. While this product line was not enough to support a business, it launched Tom's dream of owning and operating a plastics packaging company.

In 1980, Tom was asked to design a small retail package for a large U.S. retailer that wanted to merchandise a wide assortment of fasteners on peg hooks. Using many of the same elements from the original jewelry box design, Tom was able to create a retail clamshell with a hang-hole for peg hooks. This was the first retail clamshell ever invented and would soon become known as Placon's BlisterBox. Later, the design was patented and "BlisterBox" became a registered name. Since then, this high visibility package has been the industry standard worldwide.

Our first thermoforming machine, pictured above, was used to make jewelry boxes.
